What? On the spot!

A game that can be played face to face or online-based platforms.

AGE LEVEL: 7 - Adult

EQUIPMENT REQUIRED: Pieces of plain paper for each player, markers / textas and the question sheet, a stopwatch / sand timer / or clock.

Instructions

1. Decide if the game is played by either drawing or writing the answers to the questions – this can be adapted for different player ages and where the game is being played.
2. If drawing, players have 1 min to respond to each question.
3. If writing, players have 30 seconds to respond to each question. These suggested times can also be adjusted.
4. Decide who will be quiz master, or this can be taken in turns.
5. The quiz master asks a question from the question list to the players. Extra questions can be added to the question list.
6. The players either draw or write their answers.
7. Once the time runs out, every player shows their answer to the group.
8. Players that have the same answer lose a point; players with a different answer win a point.
9. Encourage players at various times to share why they chose their answers – encouraging connection and conversation.
10. The player with the most points at the end of the question list wins.
11. This game can be adapted to include more ‘would you rather?’ scenarios.
12. Such as ‘Would you rather be able to fly or swim underwater without needing to breathe?’
13. With this version, players have to provide a good argument for their preference to win a point.
